Pollockers In.

Quite a fleet of pollockers are in the harbor today, their catches aggregating in all about 80,000 pounds. The fish are being bought by the splitters for 75 and 80 cents.

Herring Notes.

The netters secured last evening about 200 bbls, which were readily sold at $2.50 per barrel.

THE RESULTS OF CLOSE SEASON

Lobsters Abundant Along Maine Coast.

The results of the close time on lobsters in Matinicus and Criehaven, Me., are manifest. When the community of fishermen after a self-imposed legal period of two months went to their traps a little after Friday morning there was the greatest excitement ever known upon Matinicus and Criehaven.

There were 4000 lobster traps put into the water on September 30 and the 300 fishermen waited patiently for 12 o'clock that night. It was something new on that far off isle in the ocean and it meant much to the men who live there. In two days, Thursday and Friday, 10,000 lobsters were taken from the ocean around the little islands of Matinicus and Criehaven. This meant $1400.

WHALES IN THE BAY.

Four Fin Backs Seen East of Pig Rocks.

While sailing with his power boat with a friend Sunday morning, William A. Winsor of Lynn saw four whales disporting in the water about three miles east of Pig Rocks. They were finbacks, and one was enormous, being fully 60 feet long. They appeared playful and sported around in the water, blowing and splashing with apparent delight. Other people in the vicinity saw this strange sight and the Winsor boat was within 100 feet of the biggest one for a short time. The monsters soon disappeared seaward without harm to the witnesses of their playfulness.
